

NATURAL AND APPLIED SCIENCES

---

SCB101 Topics in Biological Sciences [Required Course]

3 credits

This course gives an introduction to the scientific method the origin and organization of life and reproduction and ecology. The relevance of modern biological theory to human life in particular areas will be emphasized using selected topics such as urban pollution and population control.